

December 20 - 26, 2002

The Terra mission performed nominally during this period and all five instruments are currently working well in Science Mode. The MOPITT instrument has operated normally since being turned back on last week.

The Terra Flight Operations Team plans to complete the MODIS yaw calibration maneuvers on January 15-16, 2003.